REMARKS -The three works thus issued together, comprise a greater amount of the current literature of the age, than is issued in a periodical form from any other office in the United States, and will, the proprietor believes, with the addition of a good per, supply to families all the advartages which could be furnished in a most extensive tory Essay, pointing out their curracteristic excellencies; end, in some instances, compile, reading room in one of our Atlantic cities hending a mographical sketch of the Author, In the Library the newest and best books are tremarks on the state of religion in his regularly published; in the Museum and Port times.

It is the desire of the Proprietors, in undertaking This Centrer Lineary or Divisity, to present the collection to the public at social price, that he who purchases at present the charpest of ephomeral publications, may, for the same maney posses muself of works which cannot full to afford him good ance and support in the highest seed his faculties, and under every vicissitude of life.

The work will be handsomely printed in

Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fever people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. The more readily corrected when they do. The lication of each number, it is thought too. will be an advantage over monthlics and quarterlies.

The following plan is respectfully submit-

1. The "Companion" will contain earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the Irritan periodicals. 2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Library—each number containing sixteen pages—thus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little of no more expense, and making a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library itself, a volume every year, of 416 quarto pages of the size
